The Flow Collection marks a bold step forward for UTU Soulful Lighting, drawing inspiration from the playful spirit of 1970s postmodernist design. This vibrant collection features suspension lamps, wall lamps, table lamps, and floor lamps, each crafted to bring warmth, personality, and creativity to any space.

Flow is distinguished by its handmade metal structures, available in over 20 customisable colours, offering a perfect match for various interiors. It also introduces a groundbreaking innovation for UTU—the use of LED hoses, departing from traditional lamp bulbs. This modern detail enhances the collection's fluidity and energy efficiency while maintaining the brand's soulful essence.

With its playful elegance and artistic craftsmanship, Flow bridges fun and sophistication, making it an expressive lighting solution for contemporary living.

Play family

Utu Soulful Lighting, unveils the newest addition to its lighting collection - Play Lamps. The idea behind the creation of the Play family was to introduce a sculptural yet fun piece resembling a mobile art sculpture, including the always warming and comforting ambient light coming from the opaque glass globes. Part ambient light, part artwork, Play lamps will highlight any space in all the right ways. As it is custom in Utu's collection, Play is fully customizable in all its parts, allowing it to adapt perfectly to each project and space.
